LOUISE DRESSER THE HEAD LINER

Best Vaudeville Show of the Season Promised This Week.

FRENCH SHADOWGRAPH ACT

Barnyard Circus Free at Idlewood—Natatorium Has Been Opened.

Miss Louise Dresser, who will head the bill at the Casino this week, is a comedienne of the first rank. She has recently been chosen as the leading lady in Lew Fields' new company to appear at the Herald Square Theatre next season.

Miss Dresser has long been prominent on Broadway, and has a brilliant future before her. Few women on the stage today can sing a song better than Miss Dresser, and none possess a better appearance. She is, in fact, one of the most beautiful women before the public.

Jack Norworth, who presents himself as "The College Boy," not only looks the part, but acts it as well, and makes his monologue fit the character. Mr. Norworth is something more than a comedian. He is a humorist, and all of his jokes and stories are his own. He writes his own songs, and is, in a word, quite the clever, resourceful man in his line in vaudeville.

The three Kentons will appear in an acrobatic comedy act, in which Joe, Myra and Buster Keaton all take part in an act that goes with a dash and vim that has never been equalled in this particular line of effort.

James and Bonnie Farley have a new lively singing and dancing comedy act. Miss Farley wears some stunning gowns, and is a very attractive woman. James Farley is a great dancer, and together they appear to excellent advantage.

The Shadowgraph. Chassino, a French shadowgrapher, is another of the many foreign novelties that Mr. Wells has booked over his circuit. Chassino is assisted by Mme. Chassino. This foreign expert uses a powerful arc lamp in the art that children amuse themselves with by using a candle, and employs his feet as well as his hands. It is rated one of the best foreign acts that has been imported this year and has created a veritable sensation in New York.

MISS LOUISE DRESSER.
A clever comedienne, who will be seen at the Casino this week.

The cameragraph, with new pictures that instruct as well as amuse, completes one of the strongest vaudeville shows ever booked at this popular summer playhouse. As usual, Casino coupons will be good for admission to Idlewood, and Casino patrons are invited to stop over after the performances to witness the big free out-door exhibition which takes place on the platform in the stadium.

Barnyard Circus.

The free act for this week will be Watson's "Barn-Yard Circus," and is said to be the most unique act of this kind in this country, over twenty animals taking part in the performance which is an especially interesting one for the ladies and the children.

The grand ball-room at Idlewood opened last night, when the visitors filled this beautiful room, which possesses one of the largest and finest dancing floors in this section of the country and which ought to prove one of the most popular attractions of this beautiful summer playground.

Natatorium Open.

The Natatorium is now open, and there is no question but what this attraction has filled a long-felt want. The pool is filled with pure spring water and is heated to the proper summer temperature for bathing.

The Natatorium will be open to the public Sundays.

It is lighted by hundreds of electric lights, making it a feature at night, as well as day. Only expert swimming teachers have been employed to look after the safety and personal comfort of the bathers, and the dressing rooms have been remodeled and made clean and neat.

The Mystic Shute is also in operation and the mechanical baseball gallery and the chicken game will be ready tomorrow.

They Like Our Papers.

It is the bitter and unceasing complaint of Canadian publishers that the people of the Dominion will persist in reading American newspapers and periodicals to the disregard of the local publications. The Canadian Press Association, which represents the Canadian news media throughout the Dominion, has been actively agitating for amendments to the postal schedule, which will render more difficult the entry of American weekly and monthly periodicals. Canada and the United States enjoy a reciprocal interchange of mail matter on a domestic rate basis, and this permits American popular publications to flood the country-American Review of Books, for instance, and the like.
